Metropolitan Water District Reduces Water Allocations to San Diego

In a much-anticipated move, the Metropolitan Water District has decided to reduce water supply deliveries to the San Diego Water Authority by 13 percent starting July 1. This water, which comes from the Bay Delta, accounts for 71 percent of our region's total water supply. San Diego residents and businesses will be impacted by this cut. Each of the 24 member retail water providers in the region are developing plans on how they address the reduced supply. To learn more about these cuts and how you can help save water, join us at our upcoming Clean Water Ambassador Training.
