This week: Learn About Oil Spills in San Diego and then Play at the Beach

Free August 26 Signs of the Tide, August 28 Coastkeeper Day at the Beach

Have you ever wondered how an oil spill would impact San Diego? We have. And that's why we've assembled local and regional oil disaster experts for our August 26 Signs of the Tide at the California Center for Sustainable Energy, located at 8690 Balboa Ave., Suite 100, from 6 p.m. - 8 p.m.

The free event uses panel presentations and small group discussions to examine the likelihood of an oil spill in San Diego, how it would impact the region and steps we can take to prevent such a disaster.

KPBS Reporter and Producer Ed Joyce will moderate the panel of speakers featuring:

- Michael Salviati, United States Coast Guard Sector San Diego/Incident Management Division
- Dr. Steve Weisberg Executive Director, Southern California Coastal Water Research Project; and
- Debbie Cook, Former Mayor of Huntington Beach and Advisory Board Member of Association for the Study of Peak Oil and Gas - USA.

San Diego Coastkeeper Day at the Beach

After you fill your brain with smarts, join us this Saturday, August 28, from noon to 4 p.m. for San Diego Coastkeeper Day at the Beach.

Look for the San Diego Coastkeeper tent at Law Street in Pacific Beach and prepare to enjoy the ocean that you work so hard to protect. Saturday is a day to kick off your shoes and relax with Coastkeeper staff, Board of Directors, volunteers, partners, sponsors, family and friends. Come early and stay late, or drop in for a quick hello. We'll bring beach games, groovy music and good times. You bring the most important part - you.
